

Parental Consent for Treatment of Minor

Therapist generally requires the consent of both parents prior to providing any services to a minor child. If any question exists regarding the authority of the Minor's Representative to give consent for psychotherapy, Therapist will require that Representative submit supporting legal documentation, such as a custody order, prior to the commencement of services.

A Minor Client will benefit most from psychotherapy when his/her parents, guardians or other caregivers are supportive of the therapeutic process.

Representatives should be aware that Therapist is not a conduit of information from Minor Client. Psychotherapy can only be effective if there is a trusting and confidential relationship between Therapist and Client. Although Representative can expect to be kept up to date as to Minor Client's progress in therapy, he/she will typically not be privy to detailed discussions between Therapist and Minor Client. However, Representative can expect to be informed in the event of any serious concerns Therapist might have regarding the safety or well-being of Minor Client.

Therapist will not make any recommendations as to custody or visitation regarding Minor Client. Therapist will make efforts to be uninvolved in any custody dispute between Minor Client's parents.
